

Does God Exist? Do humans have free will? Is there life after death? These questions are of great interest to young people and this CD ROM goes some way towards helping them explore these questions with depth and rigour. The package contains over twenty five presentations consisting of over 700 pages. Schools will also receive access to online resources which are updated regularly. The power-point presentations have links to over 50 video presentations embedded in them with many hours of video contents to support the lessons. Teachers can add to the power-point presentations and adjust them to use with their classes and then place the content on their schools intranet server for other teachers and students at the school to access. The purchase price includes access to all the resources for anyone at your school. A sample presentation can be downloaded from the website www.dialogueaus.com.
